Yellow warning
Thunderstorm

Between 00:00 Thu 18 Aug 2022 and
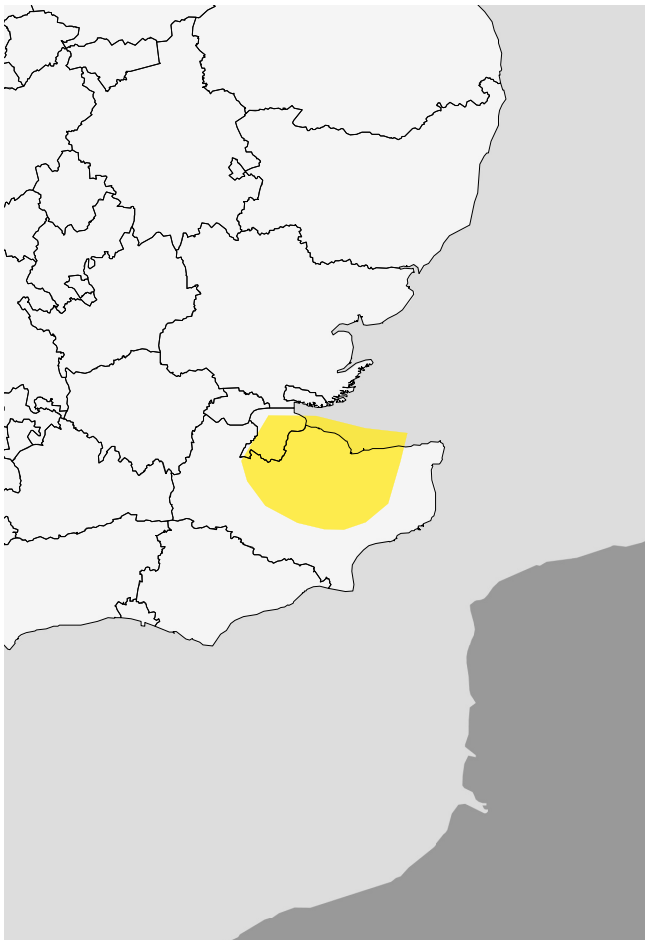
08:00 Thu 18 Aug 2022



Whilst most areas will see showers die out a few may continue over parts of Kent into Thursday morning with a small chance of disruption.

What to expect

- Spray and standing water could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a slight chance that power cuts could occur and other services to some homes and businesses could be lost
- Where flooding or lightning strikes occur, there is a chance of delays and some cancellations to train and bus services
- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded quickly, with damage to some buildings from floodwater, lightning strikes, hail or strong winds
- There is a small chance that some communities become cut off by flooded roads

Further details

There is a small chance of showers continuing to form over the north Kent coast and feed inland overnight into Thursday.

Where these do occur 30mm of rain is possible in an hour and 40-50 mm in a few hours with the small chance of some disruption. Lightning and hail may also be additional hazards.

The greatest likelihood however is that the showers will remain mostly offshore with limited rainfall inland.

Very low likelihood of medium impacts
